PASSENGERS NOT ANSWER?

"The situation would not be alleviated by carrying more passengers."

This statement and others contained in a letter in August, 1962, from William H. Kendall, president of Louisville and Nashville Railroad, to W. Ray Gordon, then president of Hancock Chamber of Commerce, furnished those opposing discontinuance of Trains 9 and 12 by the L and N a lever in their cross-examination of yesterday morning's only witness in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in New Orleans. Sessions are expected to continue at least through Friday.

The witness, R. P. Ehrbridge, the railroad's general passenger agent, on direct examination by Harry McCall, Jr., attorney for the railroad's New Orleans division, also testified that in his opinion there was no prospect of any substantial increase in utilization of the

County gets subdivision proposals

Proposed sub-division regulations for Hancock County which Louis C. Bisso of Planning Services, Inc., said embodied only the minimum needs was taken under consideration by the board of supervisors Monday.

Bisso's firm was authorized by the board in late December to prepare sub-division rules as the first step toward county planning and to seek matching funds for the remainder of the program through the State Agricultural and Industrial Board.

The planning consultant urged supervisors to exert every influence they can muster to secure A and I board funds since indications are the NASA motivated regional planning council will be given preference over the county. "The problem here can only be solved by the people here," he noted.

Sanitary sewerage regulations are the minimum standards of the State Board of Health and what is required for FHA approval of sub-divisions, he noted, but the state may relax some provisions on application. Bisso cited the various protections afforded purchasers of lots in new developments as well as the county as a whole through such regulations.

He urged creation of a county planning commission to start study of the proposals and handle administration after its enactment, recommending also that a public hearing be conducted before adoption so that the public is thoroughly informed.

On board attorney Lucien Geis' advice the document was held for study before a full discussion and Bisso is to return to the Feb. 17 meeting if the board is ready to talk about the matter then.

At the same session council also authorized advertising for bids for an automobile to be used by the police department.

Meanwhile another application for a franchise and license for a television antenna service has been received by the city. Cable Video, Inc., Bay Springs, has now sought permission to provide this service in Bay St. Louis. It proposes to furnish reception of eight clear tv channels, two FM radio channels and one weather channel.

The second local and private bill in two years to bail out the county general fund was sought by the board of supervisors Monday as payment of its $11,000 January claim docket was added on the waiting list, putting the fund $51,340 in the hole.

Supervisor H. G. Dean moved to request State Rep. Walter J. Phillips to secure legislation enabling the board to transfer $50,000 from the road and bridge bond fund to the general fund to meet outstanding obligations. This would bring to $79,000 the amount transferred from the R and B bond fund to the general in two years.

The general fund should get quite a shot in the arm, however, on Feb. 20 when Tax Collector Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., makes his settlement on the lucrative January tax collections. To date taxes have yielded only $5,690 for the general fund.

To start the fiscal year last Oct. 1 supervisors borrowed from the R and B bond fund $25,000 on anticipated revenue which was exhausted in short order and December claims of $15,000 were held over, the January bills being added to the roster Monday.

Supervisors consulted with Robert Hoffman of the state auditing office before deciding to seek the local and private legislation to get relief. Dean noted many county employees were suffering with no pay checks for two months under present conditions. The road and bridge bond fund, now virtually retired, has only two

Spvrs. to ponder roads, TB rumors

State aid road projects and study of the county's role in enforcing health regulations are scheduled for consideration when the board of supervisors convenes at 2:30 p.m. today (Thursday).

Highway department representatives are expected to discuss plans to proceed with two road projects in Beats 3 and 4 delayed last fall for better bid prices and good weather. Supervisors Monday asked Dr. William Watkins of Brookhaven, acting county clinician, to appear on reports of a high prevalence of tuberculosis cases here after authorizing two new admittances to the state sanatorium at Magee.

Hospital Trustee Joe K. Duckworth presented his idea for a county farm, which the hospital board has approved. As he envisions the project the county has the land in 16th sections, some of the equipment and most of the labor in prisoners and juvenile delinquents. Some farmers, he added, would donate some pigs and cows and he thought the farm

Pour pier for bridge at MTO between rains

Three million pounds of concrete were poured over a 16-hour period beginning at 9:30 a.m. last Friday on the south pier foundation for the bascule bridge at Mississippi Test Operations as heavy construction resumed after the January monsoons. The operation continued until 1:30 a.m. Saturday and amounted to 800 cubic yards.

Contractor personnel stood at 284 Monday with a total MTO work force of 554 but work stalled again Wednesday with heavy morning rain. However Leavell and Kiewit, contractors for the S-C test stand foundations, are starting on that job while Morris-Knudsen is moving in heavy equipment for the lock so activity is slated to pick up sharply. A peak work force of 3,000 is predicted by the end of the summer.

WJP, better check

When the assessed valuation of Hancock County passed the $15 million mark last year the pay of the supervisors and the superintendent of education went up. Not so for the assessor and he had recommended the increased assessment. He was being paid according to special legislation not applicable when the county reached the new high and under the general law he now gets $50 a month less. Understandably our representation, Mr. Walter James Phillips, has been asked to secure passage of legislation at least returning the pay to the old amount.

It is not quite so understandable that some of the supervisors, whose pay just went up, are asking for special legislation increasing their monthly salaries for part time work from $325 to $500. In fact, another special bill they want—authority to transfer $50,000 from the road and bridge bond fund to the bankruptcy general fund—it seems to us kind of screams "no".

Under the circumstances we suggest Mr. Phillips check with his constituents before pressing for more pay for the supervisors.

One solution

A problem and one solution to future cases were separately presented to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors at its meeting Monday. The problem was presented by a delegation of home owners in Harbor Estates who find the roads to their homes all but impassable. One solution for the future is subdivision regulations and Mr. Louis C. Bisso of Planning Services Incorporated, who has been hired by the board, presented proposed subdivision regulations for the county.

The plight of the Harbor Estates residents is an old one presently shared by residents of Shoreline Park and other sub-divisions in the county and in our two municipalities. In a typical case the subdivider or his agent has led a purchaser to believe the roads in his sub-division has been taken over by the county or municipality or the state or that he would pave the roads and the appropriate governmental unit would then take over their maintenance. In fact no governmental unit has taken over responsibility for the roads because they do not meet the minimum standards for such action and the seller never brings them up to that level.

The supervisors are practically helpless to assist. The road and bridge maintenance fund is what it says. It is a maintenance fund and barely able to maintain the roads which the county has accepted. That is the reason the county requires that roads meet a minimum standard before it will take over the maintenance of them. These sub-division roads need new construction. This problem is one of those which proper sub-division regulations should prevent arising in the future.

Seek $50,000...

small bonds outstanding. It now contains about $56,000 and there are three inter-fund loans of $45,000 to be repaid to it, the auditor advised.

Hoffman also discussed with the board methods it may use to increase the millage for general fund over the routine 7-mill statutory limit to ease the recurring situation.

Clerk Marie Quintini noted that $10,000 loans from the R and B bond fund to Beat 3 and 4 were scheduled for repayment as of Monday along with $25,000 from the general fund which would augment the total.

R. G. Hubbard of Beat 5 remarked he had hoped a way could be found to get the general fund out of the hole and leave a balance to buy voting machines for elections since it was becoming more and more difficult to get election managers to serve. That appeared doubtful in view of existing claims although the docket was not called for an item by item check.

Taking note of the general fund's condition the board took no action on a request from the National Guard that it contribute toward utility bills at the armory.

Supervisors went over other claim dockets with the proverbial "fine toothed comb." Delph Keller of Beat 2 voted three claims totaling $435.31 ($15 for Bill Garrett Chevrolet of Sibley, $330 to Gulf Asphalt Paving and $46.31 to Casanova Auto Parts) saying they were out of a county fund, and transferred $44 from American National to Beat 5. James McDaniel of Beat 5 voted a $2,271.68 from the maintenance fund to the maintenance fund of Beat 5 which is within the $50,000 limit. Arthur O'Connell of Beat 5 also transferred $44 from the maintenance fund to the maintenance fund of Beat 5.

Ridge. Supervisors present at the afternoon session on bills also agreed to check into practices elsewhere and the law on paying vehicular equipment license tags, questioning assessment of county-owned machinery.

Dean, the Beat 1 supervisor, asked to go on record requesting the Beat 4 supervisor to repay the $2,000 loan made in the last fiscal year and then Joshua Kellar asked examining the Beat 2 bills "upside down and inside out." (Kellar had inquired earlier if Ponderosa sub-division had been accepted by the county.) Dean also questioned County Superintendent of Education Robert F. Ladner as to when the county school board will meet its overdue notes for school bus purchases. Ladner replied that auditors are expected to report on the status of school finances in the near future. He requested a full inspection of school finances upon taking over the superintendency on Jan. 6.

The board authorized $100 contribution to the South Mississippi Livestock Assn., and payment for advertisements to the New Orleans Times-Picayune for its Deep South Progress edition and Pearl River Junior College program, all from the advertising fund. This prompted Dean to observe, "Thank the Lord we put a half-a-mill on the advertising fund," directed apparently at criticism this levy incurred.

Supervisors went along with Keller's request that Bob McQueen be re-hired as county-wide mechanic at $850 a month for as long as his services are satisfactory. He previously held this post but supervisors complained he was not available. They acknowledged that good service by a local man would save considerable, however. Each beat is to contribute $50 toward McQueen's pay and to that of George Wier as county engineer since the county-wide

They engage the winner of Purvis-Lumberton next Friday. The Hawks will have the same competition except Picayune which does not have a girls' team.

School relief...

only a $350,000 bond issue is for temporary relief only and does not provide for a long-range building program. Little hope was given the system can find a way to get other funds for this except for the $150,000 to $200,000 in settlement on the Loggown School when it is acquired by NASA.

At the school board's regular meeting Monday, Phillips compared the need to provide adequate educational facilities for Hancock County to realize its full growth potential with a small grocery store that doesn't stock all the items the shopper wants. "It's just like the trend to the one-stop shopping center," he declared.

Ladner, McCullough, Architect Fred Wagner and School Board President E. P. Orto plan to go to Jackson Friday for conferences on the overall situation.

Routine business occupied the rest of the session and the board recessed until Feb. 22 when the auditor's findings should be completed and the sheriff's tax settlement made. The board also agreed to rent at $10 a month property at Nacaise Crossing for part of its bus repair work.

Waveland...

of streets will be concluded and the mayor and board take on an inspection tour to determine that the job has been satisfactorily completed.

Council also charged expenses for Mayor Ladner and Clerk C. O. Deane, who leave for Memphis Sunday with Russell to sign and seal the final bonds on the new water system. had been abolished.

Payment of $400 premium to Hancock Insurance Agency for insurance in the Court House was authorized.

Pirates halt Rocks

Freezing the ball for almost the entire second half and capitalizing on foul shots, a band of Pass Christian Pirates beat St. Stanislaus' Cagers 53-44 Tuesday night in the Stanislaus gym but the junior varsity managed to stave off a last quarter rally to win the opener 42-37.

The Rocks had trouble warming up and trailed 17-7 at the end of the first period. They managed to get within five points at the half but the Pirates forged ahead again in the third and after piling up a 10-point margin played it safe by freezing the ball for the rest of the game and making free throws at every opportunity.

In Tuesday night's action at North Central St. Joseph's Academy's Gold Jays turned back the Hawkettes 46-37 after the home girls had set up a 14-11 lead in the first period, the Gold Jays forging ahead.

Gulfport tops HNC

Suffering their third defeat this season, Hancock North Central fell before Gulfport's Commodores 50-60 Monday night in B. Frank Brown Memorial gymnasium at Gulfport but came back Tuesday to trounce Long Beach 73-53 in North Central's gym. The Hawks hold a win over Gulfport Jan. 22 and are now 26-3 over-all for the season.

Gulfport also took the preliminary junior varsity game Monday 58-36, Edwin Malley setting the pace for the losers with 12 points although he only saw brief action.

In Tuesday night's action at North Central St. Joseph's Academy's Gold Jays turned back the Hawkettes 46-37 after the home girls had set up a 14-11 lead in the first period, the Gold Jays forging ahead.

At Gulfport, it was nip and tuck for the first half, the Commodores taking the first quarter 12-10 and North Central the second 17-16 but the Hawks appeared to tire and dropped both third and fourth frames 16-13 and 16-10. Wendell and Berlin Ladner scored 19 and 13 and Eddie Peterson 11. Johnny Adams hit for 21 for the Commodores.

The Hawks had little trouble trouncing the Bearcats, taking the first two quarters 18-10 and 16-13, tying the third 22-22 and coasting through the fourth 17-8. ### Miss. Power pays $47,594 in taxes

Mississippi Power Co., one of the area's largest taxpayers, last week paid $47,594.27 in 1963 county and municipal ad valorem taxes here, according to A. H. Gregory, Bay St. Louis manager. The county's share was $39,063.41 while Bay St. Louis got $13,268.65 and Waveland $1,262.21.

Franchise payments for the last quarter of 1963 had been made earlier, bringing the total J.T. Bourgeois.

Final rites were Friday for James T. Bourgeois, 51, of 240 View St., Waveland, who died Jan. 29 at the Veterans Administration Hospital in New Orleans. Services were from Riemann's Funeral Home in Waveland Cemetery.

Born Aug. 8, 1912, he was a carpenter. Surviving are two daughters, Miss Frances Bourgeois of Pineville; two sons, James T. Bourgeois, Jr., of Bay St. Louis, and Ernest Carver of Waveland.

Mrs. Earl Garcia
Mrs. Lottie Belle Garcia, 50, died in Hancock General Hospital at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday.

She is survived by her husband, Earl Garcia, her father, Gus Tartavouille; one son, Richard Garcia, five daughters, Mrs. Audrey Fountain, Mrs. Margie Neale, Mrs. Peggy Sims, Misses Patsy and Carol Garcia; five brothers, Sam, George, Carl, Herbert, and Willie Tartavouille; three sisters, Mrs. Helen Holleman, Mrs. Louise Saucier, and Mrs. Eva Smith, all of Bay St. Louis, and nine grandchildren.

Services will be today. Mrs. Davidson
Mrs. Mary D. Davidson, 88, former resident of Bay St. Louis, died at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday at Mobile, Ala.

Born in Dublin, Ireland, Feb. 16, 1876, she resided for some years at 610 Hancock St. and was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Church. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Jean McColister of Long Beach, and a son, Mr. R. G. Hubbard, board president of Best 5, questioned if such a farm could be operated economically or kept out of politics and asked Robert Hoffman, state auditor who was working in the Courthouse, how Harrison County came out financially with its farm. To this Hoffman answered "I haven't audited it (Harrison County) in a long time, but understand it comes out pretty good". Both Hubbard and Dean repeated they would look into it and there the matter now stands.

On the motion of Dolph Kellar of Best 2 the board called for bids on printing minutes of its proceedings after Kellar noted the previous contract had expired last spring.

In other action the board recommended Leamon Wells, graduate of Mississippi State University, for appointment to the vacancy on the Soil Conservation Service staff; agreed to support legislation calling for state maintenance of U. S. 90 and 11 after the Interstate system is completed; accepted homestead exemption rejections from the state on Victor F. Poutre and Robert C. Heron on grounds they did not pay Mississippi income taxes; approved the notary public bond of Joseph Benvenuti, and accepted the payment plan for the mosquito control commission director shared with Harrison and Jackson Counties.

was disentangled without injury to anyone concerned, but Janet was still more than a little 'shook' hours after the near accident.

Lorraine and George and all the little Fannings week-ended in their Garden Street home for the first time since well before Christmas. Zelda and Ken Walzmann finally returned to Kenwood last week-end after a number of weeks. . . hope they'll soon be regulars again, we always look forward to seeing their spring plants.

Ruth and Chink LaFontaine are smiling more widely than ever these days. Daughter Gloria and husband Airman Marvin Mays and small son have obtained a transfer from Eglin Field, Fla., to Keesler AFB effective Feb. 1. Gloria and the baby spent the week-end with her parents.

Linda and Tommy Kidd will take Margie and John Auderer and Lorraine and Ray Kidd grandparents once more. This will be their third child.

We'd almost given up hope of ever passing on this item, but Merle Stieffel finally produced her fourth, a little girl weighing eight pounds, two ounces at Hancock General Monday night. Mamma and baby are doing fine, but Bert looks a little pale. . . perhaps it's because they haven't managed to agree on a name for the new arrival as yet.

Betty Phillips who had been walking around for the first time since breaking her hip last fall, is confined to her bed again. This time it's a fever caused by a persistent cold. Dropping in recently to cheer her up were Mrs. A. Perriman Burn of Llewellyn Park, New Jersey, Mrs. Rudolph Vetter, III, Mrs. Carl Rannan and Miss Sue Rhodes, all of New Orleans.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS — ALONG THE WAY: Scarlet nandina bushes with leaves as red as its berries; picturesque trawlers sharply outlined against the blue horizon, children playing on what remains of the beach and the sound of their shrill cries echoed by hundreds of happily cheeping birds.

John Necaise; and 12th—same as the semester role.

A Fish Story

According to Dr. Gordon Gunter of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory of Ocean Springs, that strip of the coastline lying between Pascagoula, Mississippi, and Port Arthur, Texas, is the earth's most productive fisheries area. Only the waters off Peru can compare with it in fertility.

Gulf Coast production is now about 28 percent of the total of the country and the crescent strip from Pascagoula to Port Arthur yielded over 20 percent of the total fishery landings in the United States during 1961 and 1962. With most fish-producing areas declining, Gulf Coast fisheries have increased 700 percent through the past 27 years.

Under the constructive leadership of the Marine Conservation Commission of Mississippi, and the cooperation of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory and other agencies, oyster production in Mississippi waters has leaped from 100,000 barrels to 280,000 barrels in three years. Our oyster beds have expanded from 3,200 Mississippi Sound bottom acres to 5,000.

By working together on this project, oyster production is almost three times what it was in previous record years. With our beds yielding about 56 barrels per acre, or 100 gallons of shucked bivalves, these bottoms are producing a $600 crop per acre, while at the same time the same areas produce fish.

The rivers that flow into our sea supply superior feeding grounds. And bays and shallow waters provide a natural and rich resource. We are learning more about our fish that spawn out in the Gulf and then their young move back toward shore to feed and fatten in brackish waters.

As a feeding ground and nursery for fish, our estuaries, bays and shallow streams, therefore, should be protected from pollution.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is writing a new chapter in seafood achievement. We are demonstrating that by working together we not only can make this Mississippi Gulf Coast a fisherman's paradise, but a sea overflowing with prosperity.

Berlin most valuable

Hawks annex circuit title

Hancock North Central coasted to another Gulf Coast Conference basketball championship Saturday night beating the Stone High of Wiggins 67-42 in the finals in the Harrison Central gym at Lyman. The Hawks overpowered Bay High 69-37 Friday and St. Martin 77-48 Thursday.

Berlin Lacher of HNC was selected the tournament's most valuable player. Named to the all-tournament team along with Wendell and Eugene Lacher and Larry Harrison of Bay High. Wendell was one of two sophomores to make the team, all others being seniors.

In their victory over Stone, the Hawks held quarter leads of 13-6, 34-19 and 49-29. Berlin scored 33 points followed by Eddie Peterson and Wendell Lacher with 11 and 10 while Charles Kennedy got 19 for the Tomcats.

Bay High was easily the best team Wednesday night beating Long Beach 66-57 but couldn't cope with the Hawks in the semi-finals Friday. In the Long Beach game Larry Harrison led the Tigers with 32 points but couldn't get started against the Hawks and Bruce Cox was high with 11 followed by Leroy Lake with 7. Bay High's Melva Lake turned in a stunning performance Wednesday night scoring 41 points against Harrison Central's girls but it wasn't enough and the Rebels took the contest 71-54. Jerry Evans of Harrison Central turned in a record-breaking 47 points as they took a 16-8 first quarter lead and led 36-26 at the half, adding 18 in the third and 17 in the fourth.

St. Martin knocked out North Central's girls 58-47 Thursday night despite Valerie Malley's 26 points and Joyce Smith's 14. The Hawks were within striking range throughout the game but couldn't take the lead.

The Hawks got off to an 18-10 lead in the first quarter against Bay High and the Tigers were never able to seriously threaten, being on the short end of every period 17-4, 17-16 and 17-7.

Against St. Martin Thursday, North Central led in every quarter 22-7, 17-14, 22-17 and 16-10. Berlin Lacher was high man with 19 followed by Eugene with 17, Wendell 13 and Eddie Peterson 12.

Murray takes bowling event

Racking up a high game of 271, Don Murray defeated Al Butler Sunday night to win the Tower Lane Handicap Bowling Tournament. Both are members of the highly-regarded Gulf Chevrolet team and will bowl with professionals in Mobile, Ala., Feb. 11 for a $5,000 prize.

Murray reached the finals by upsetting Vernon Bermond, one of the South's finest bowlers rolling the 271 during this series. He is an engineer with Smith and Sanders, Engineers, of the MTO and Butler is employed by Raytheon Co. at the test site. He had a high game of 249.

Competing in the tournament were teams sponsored by Texan Motel, Gulf Chevrolet, Fred Hoagland Ford Sales, Marquez Club, Sea Coast Echo and Merchants Bank.

Sullivan Bell racked up a mighty total of 38 points followed by Harold Price with 18, Robert Whavers 12 and Cleveland Williams 8. Eartha Dorsey got 20, Marilyn Price 13 and Doris Robertson 5.

Coach Willie Bradley was enthusiastic about the boys' improved play noting they apparently have overcome the loss of captain Joe Tate, who is out for the season with injuries, and has high hopes for both boys' and girls' squads in the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference Tournament at Poplarville Feb. 15. Both squads are leading the conference with a 5-1 record, the girls followed by Pass Christian with 4-1. In boys' competition Wiggins and Purvis are tied for second slot, both with 4-2 records.

Monday night in the Jones gym the lads and lasses will battle Pass Christian for the visitation trophy which is presented to the team with the most wins for the season.

Matherne paces SSC win

Sparked by Curtis Matherne who racked up 29 points, St. Stanislaus' Rockchaws gave St. John's of Gulfport a 75-53 shellacking Thursday night in the Rock gym. The junior varsity took the opener 49-37 to make it a perfect night.

The varsity game started slowly but the Rocks soon warmed up to move ahead and take every quarter working a press beautifully and displaying a fine passing attack. Fred Walden, 6 foot three forward, a newcomer who made the starting lineup because of the benching of Ned Heath and Waymon Carr, did a fine job on the boards and scored 13 points to boot. Matherne hit for 14 points in the final quarter. Also scoring in double figures was Moe Scaffie with 10. St. John's Greg McNally got 14, Bill Burke 10 and Gary Bourgeois 10.

For the juniors Philip Warner got 13, Micky Waller 12 and John Ganaway 10. St. John's Joker and Koonce got 18 each. The squads agreed to a third game Friday night at Stanislaus, the Rocks having defeated the Eagles also on Jan. 21 in Gulfport.

WILL TRY FOR $5,000 - Edmond LaCaze, manager of Tower Lanes, presents trophies to Al Butler, left, runner-up in Tower Lanes Handicap Bowling Tournament, and Don Murray, winner, Sunday night.

Teen Times

The following lines are not intended for the majority of our readers, in fact we fear that those we'll be discussing either haven't sufficient intelligence to read or are too busy taking things that don't belong to them to have the time. We're referring to a rash of thefts which are taking place daily all over the area. Siphoning a few gallons of gasoline doesn't sound very serious, but it's happening so frequently that sooner or later, someone is going to get shod. We've been victimized so often of late that we just hope to find enough in the tank to get to the nearest filling station each morning. So much fuel has been stolen around Nicholson Avenue and nearby streets, it's apparent that at least some of the offenders must live somewhere in the vicinity. Now, we're short one rubber floor mat taken while the car was parked outside of the bowling center. . . just hope the two young men, who incidentally we'll recognize the next time we see them, as they were standing just behind the car, have more use for it than we did.

Still lecturing, a number of boys and girls seem to think it's amusing to pick up small articles in different stores. Some even consider it sort of a game, it most definitely is not and eventually they're bound to be caught. . . too, real criminals grow from little shoplifting acorns! As we said, none of this applies to at least 99 percent of our readers but a few bad apples give the whole barrel of teenagers a questionable aroma.

Belated birthday greetings are on the way to Lillian Trivira who was 15 on Jan. 22 and Mary DeBlanc who was the same age Jan. 27.

Janet Trapani entertained nine friends at a slumber party when she came home for the weekend recently.

Enjoying dancing and refreshments at Mary Ann Becker's a couple of weeks ago were Stanislaus boarders, Wade Gonzales and Henry Dabdouh, Barbara Cruden, Julie Delph, Becky Agustin, John Necaise, Ree Elliott, Craig Johnson, Cheryl Harshburger, Tina Roseberry, a newcomer who hails from California, and Donna Garriga.

Nita Kay Erwin and Pennie Webre were both listed among the top 20 beauties at the University of Southern Mississippi. Ann Bryant and Paula Crider are members of the jury in the USM presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, Trial by Jury.

St. Aloysius of New Orleans gave a band concert at St. Stanislaus last Friday p.m. The jazz band played for a sock hop following the concert.

Bud Dohm hosted a party for fellow North Bay Classmates at the Carroll Avenue home of his mother, Mrs. John Glover and Mr. Glover, last Saturday night. His guests enjoyed chips, dips, cookies and soft drinks.

Rod Villere had one of the first King Cake parties of the season at his Sears Avenue home last Friday night.

Just about everyone in town has become a celebrity. . . Bay High class officers and other BPOC (Big People on Campus) were interviewed for Bay St. Louis day on WWL-TV and St. Joseph's cheerleaders and Rock-a-cheers and Stanislaus Band members were viewed clearly in the Carrollton parade presented 'live' last Sunday.
